THE OYSTERS' ENEMY.

The Borer Pest Has Played Havoc With the Oysters This Season.

The "borer," a pest about the size of a small straw berry, is working great havoc among the oyster beds in Delaware bay and tributary streams. Captain Moses Veale of the oyster schooner White Lily says that the destructive power of the borer have been known to oystermen only a few years. He had followed oyster digging nearly 35 years, and the first time he saw was about 10 years ago, but their ravages in the oyster beds were comparatively unnoticed until last year.

Captain Veale said that "last year the number of dead oysters with holes made by borers in the shell became so great that oystermen were alarmed. This year the work of the borer has become a grave matter, and if it continues many days will become depopulated of oysters. From one bed we dredged on this trip we got 1,300 baskets of oysters, but out of these only 200 were good, the dead oysters having been killed by borers. A peculiar thing about the ravages of the borers is their apparent selection of the best oyster beds. We have found this to be true several times this season. We have found a bed of small oysters almost entirely free from borers. This bed will be separated from another bed of larger oysters by 200 feet, but this latter will be so badly affected by the creatures that it will hardly pay to work it.

"From what I can learn from oystermen the destruction wrought by borers is more severe in Delaware bay than in other places.

"The work of the borer this year has been a deadly misfortune, for the oyster season is now almost over, and the few people who are not in the oyster dredging business know anything of the methods of the borer. When I first took notice of its work, I secured several oysters just after the borer had fastened itself to the shell. When the borer fastens itself, it holds on like a leech, and it is with difficulty that it can be removed with the fingers.

"Sometimes the borer fastens itself to the oyster shell near the edge, and then the oyster is not killed. When the hole of the borer is made near the center of the shell, the oyster is attacked in its vital parts and dies in three or four days after the hole is first made."

Some of the bed owners near Maurice river have lost large sums of money this year on account of the borer. Thomas Munsey, who has a number of large beds, it is said, will lose $10,000. Several other men have lost nearly as much through this unlooked for calamity, and a number of men have lost in the neighborhood of $2,000 or $3,000. All oystermen say there can be no way of taking away the borer without destroying the oyster beds. —Philadelphia Ledger.

WHO DIED FIRST?

A Question of Importance to the Heirs of Two Victims of Battle Creek's Disaster.

Among the persons killed in the frightful disaster at Battle Creek, Mich., a few weeks ago were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Saxe. So far as the evidence showed both died instantly and simultaneously. Nevertheless the question as to whether the man or the woman died first is one of considerable importance to the heirs of both, and an inquiry is already afoot to discover if possible whether there was any calculable difference of time between their deaths.

If it could be demonstrated, for instance, that the man was the first to die, his property would pass to the heirs of his wife, whereas if it were shown on the other hand that the wife died first her estate would fall to the heirs of her husband. Considerable property is involved in this question, and the case is one of peculiar interest.

In cases involving somewhat the same question of fact the law has held that the woman, being supposedly the weaker person, would naturally be the first to expire. In the present instance, however, where the death of the persons appeared to have been simultaneous, the courts, if it is brought before them, will encounter a problem of a peculiarly vexatious character. —New York Herald.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1893.

PENNOYER APPEALS TO CLEVELAND.

Governor Pennoyer is one of the few public men who fearlessly expresses his opinions regardless of consequences to party or individual. In plain, unmitigated language he describes the situation in Oregon on Christmas Day to President Cleveland, and informs him that for the first time in the history of the State numbers of its people are out of employment and many without sufficient means of support.

He bluntly informs the President that if he had carried out the pledges of the platform to which he gave his assent and upon which he was elected, the wide-spread business depression, which has diminished the value of property fully one-half, would not have occurred. With favorable Congressional legislation on silver, the downward tendency would be checked, business would revive and prosperity again visit our land.

He closes his address to the President with a pathetic expostulation to enlarge the scope of his vision and take a more comprehensive view of the situation, points to the innocent victims of vicious financial legislation, and implores him to faithfully carry out the pledges which his party gave to a confiding people, assuring him, if he does so, the blessing of God and applause of a grateful nation.

Governor Pennoyer was elected on the Democratic ticket as well as President Cleveland. He was pledged to do all in his power for the free coinage cause and he has endeavored by every means in his power to redeem that pledge. The President was also elected on a platform which was construed by party leaders, in the west at least, to mean free coinage, and which declared for the use of both gold and silver as standard money without discriminating against either metal or charge for mintage. For reasons best known to himself he has ignored this pledge and the result is unparalleled business stagnation and more wide-spread destitution than was ever before known in the history of the country.

The people will have opportunity to right these wrongs at the ballot box within a year. Will they avail themselves of it by electing no man to Congress or any other office who does not forswear allegiance to the Wall street political combination?

COMBINING AGAINST THE WILSON BILL.

Those who are opposed to the clause of the Wilson bill which places wool, coal, lead, iron ores and other so-called raw materials on the free list are combining to defeat it in the Senate or House of Representatives. Democrats whose interests will be affected by the change are to make the fight. Several prominent Democrats from West Virginia, the State which Wilson represents, are engaged the coal and iron business and will unite with Democrats from Ohio, Texas, Montana and other States, who are opposed to free wool, and with others from Idaho and Utah who do not want free lead.

Prominent men from several States, representing various industries, are to make common cause against placing articles in which they are interested on the free list. Louisiana sugar planters are opposed to reducing the bounty on sugar unless sugar is made dutiable. The salt manufacturers of New York, West Virginia and Michigan will join the wool growers, lead and coal and iron miners and sugar planters in the fight against the bill, and the lumber men of Maine, Wisconsin, Michigan and Washington may take a hand in the fight.

Tariff bills are generally compromise measures. The McKinley bill, as introduced, placed a duty of one and a half cents per pound on raw sugar, and of one dollar on hides. At the instance of Massachusetts leather workers hides were placed on the free list and a compromise was effected with sugar producers by which the duty on sugar was abolished and a bounty of two cents per pound substituted for the tariff. Doubtless similar changes will be made in the Wilson bill ere it becomes a law. The coal, lead and iron miners have no objection to free wool and free sugar, but by combining with men engaged in those industries they may muster strength enough to force a compromise or defeat the bill.

A little before noon Christmas day one of the most disastrous fires experienced in San Francisco for a year broke out in the block bounded by Clay, Commercial, Sansone and Leidesdorff streets. The buildings were brick and occupied by the Call and Bulletin newspaper offices, Frances, Valentine & Co., printers, Blake, Moffat & Towne, paper dealers, Shattuck & Co., ink manufacturers, and numerous smaller concerns. Every fire engine in the city was called out and it took two hours to put out the fire. A large portion of the block was destroyed and the loss is estimated at $500,000.

The Georgia Legislature, by an almost unanimous vote, declares for the free and unlimited coinage of silver and demands of the administration the fulfillment of the financial pledges of the Democratic platform. Ex-Congressman Tom Watson is agitating the silver question in the State and is making it uncomfortably warm for the goldbugs at the home of Secretary Hoke Smith.

The Santa Fe railroad system, which is one of the most extensive in the country, is in the hands of receivers.

PENNOYER TO THE PRESIDENT.

Distress in Oregon Attributed to Anti-Silver Legislation.

SALEM, Or., December 25.—Governor Pennoyer to-day addressed the following letter to President Cleveland: "The extraordinary circumstances which greet the return of this holiday must be my excuse for writing you. To-day is the first Christmas in the history of Oregon when more than two-thirds of its people are without employment, and more than one-third without sufficient means of support. Business is almost completely stagnated; money is not to be obtained, and debtors are powerless to avoid the seizure of their property and their homes to satisfy a small percentage of their value to meet the claims of creditors. Repeated appeals have been made to me, as Governor of Oregon, to assemble the Legislature in order to alleviate this condition of affairs and avert an impending calamity. Redress is, however, not in our hands, but in yours, and hence this appeal to you.

"The laws of Congress, which have discriminated against silver and made gold alone full legal tender money, giving to the money lender the privilege of refusing both the silver dollar and silver certificate, thus rendering unavailable more than one-half of the National currency as absolute debt paying money are sole causes of the decline of values, the paralyzing of business and of the consequent impoverishment of the great army of wage earners and of the impending starvation of their wives and children.

"If, when you stood on the eastern portico of the Capitol on the 4th of last March, you had speedily convened Congress and announced to the people that you would endeavor in the extra session to carry out the pledges of the platform to which you gave your assent and upon which you were elected, which declared for the use of both gold and silver as standard money without discrimination against either metal, the widespread depression of business, which has diminished the value of property of the nation by fully one-half, would never have occurred and if now you would give such advice to Congress the downward tendency would be checked and with favorable congressional legislation business would again revive and prosperity would again visit our land. It is honorable to carry out the pledges of the party to the people and to not do so most dishonorable. The responsibility lies entirely with you.

"The complete obedience of the Lower House of Congress to your wishes has been observed throughout the world. It would be your behest and in this the Senate would give you support. You are a father and you no doubt feel grateful to God when you, upon retiring to rest look upon your sleeping babies in their couches, pictures of health, consequent upon their having a sufficiency of food and clothing. I pray you, however, to enlarge your vision and behold, as you can, in many and many cities, children loved as much by their parents as yours are by you, weak and sickly from insufficient food and clothing, the innocent victims of vicious financial legislation whose sleeping forms are bathed by the scalding tears of mothers bending over them in sorrow and despair and there resolve, as you should, to faithfully carry out the pledges which your party gave to a confiding people. If you will do so God will bless you and a grateful nation will applaud you."

Ex-Mayor Grant of New York has been appointed receiver of the St. Nicholas Bank of New York.

Judge McCullen has granted a stay of execution of the sentence of Boss McKane for contempt of court at Gravesend's last election.

A gauzy story was published yesterday by the New York American that a movement is on foot to renominate ex-President Harrison as the Republican standard bearer in 1896.

Charley Mitchell, the pugilist, is on his way to Jacksonville, Florida, to meet Corbett in the fist arena. There is much speculation as to whether the Governor will be able to stop the fight.

The officials of the Northern Pacific have notified the delegations of the labor organizations with regard to the reduction in wages, that the change is necessary on account of the depressed condition of the business of the road.

It is expected that the currency balance in the U. S. Treasury will this week reach the lowest point ever in its history. At the close of business on Saturday the balance was $30,487,263, and it is expected it will fall below ninety million dollars during the week.

Telling the Truth.

It's common saying that newspapers lie, but when an editor writes a thing and puts his name to it you may be sure he is telling the truth. Read this: "We have never before said one word in favor of any patent medicine advertisement in our columns, but having given Simmons Liver Regulator a fair trial, we do not hesitate to say, that for Dyspepsia and general debility it cannot be excelled."—FRED M. CHILDS, editor News, Kenton, Ohio.

A St. Louis despatch says Theodore Winters has purchased a farm near Duquoin, Ill., where he will shortly send a string of highly bred youngsters from his Nevada breeding farm in Washoe Valley in charge of trainer Dick Harvey to be prepared for next season's campaign. J. J. Grant and Jersey Gough are now at Duquoin arranging for the reception and accommodation of the flyers.

THE LORD MAYOR OF LONDON.

His Various Robes, His Chains and Mace and Sword of State.

The fountain of municipal honor in England undoubtedly springs from the Guildhall, London, which justly claims to be accounted the most ancient of our municipal halls, seeing that the lord mayors of the last eight centuries are, with justice, assumed to have had prototypes in the Roman prefect and the Saxon forefathers or portgrave.

For a considerable number of years the robes of the lord mayor, the court of aldermen and the common councilors have been settled with a precision that none save the most reckless of innovators would presume to disturb. The lord mayor himself has his "gold" robe for the occasion of the annual Guildhall banquet and for the times when he proceeds in state either to the new law courts or to the houses of parliament. The aldermen have their scarlet gowns, the sheriffs their distinctive and very handsome robes and chains, while the common councilors rejoice in gowns called "mazarines," it being generally understood that mazarine is a term for a particular dark blue color, although, according to some lexicographers, mazarine also means a drinking vessel and an old way of dressing fowls.

Then, again, when the sovereign comes into the city the lord mayor is bound to don a robe of crimson or purple velvet trimmed with ermine. At the time of this investiture he wears a massive gold chain, but when he is honored by reelection at the expiration of his term of office he wears two chains. The mace of silver gilt, surmounted by a royal crown and the imperial arms, is carried before the mayor by the authority of the charter of Edward III. While the city possesses no less than four swords, one called the "Pearl," presented by Queen Bess when she opened the first royal exchange, and so called from its being richly set with pearls. This sword precedes the chief magistrate on all occasions of rejoicing and festivity. The sword of state is carried before the lord mayor as an emblem of his sovereignty within the city proper. The "Black" sword is used on fast days in Lent and at the death of any member of the royal family, while the fourth sword is that placed close to the lord mayor's chair at the central criminal court.—London Telegraph.

The Angora Cat.

The Angora cat is peculiar. When its fur is entirely white, the animal is invariably blind, but when there is even the slightest tinge of color the vision is as perfect as in any other normal cat. This phenomenon is not accounted for. The only case of a similar kind known is that of the fishes in Mammoth cave, which have no eyes.

A Gentleman

Who formerly resided in Connecticut, but who now resides in Honolulu, writes: "For 20 years past, my wife and I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor, and we attribute to it the dark hair which she and I now have, while hundreds of our acquaintances, ten or a dozen years younger than we, are either gray-headed, white, or bald. When asked how our hair has retained its color and fullness, we reply, 'By the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor—nothing else.' "In 1868, my affianced was nearly bald, and the hair kept falling out every day. I induced her to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and very soon it not only checked any further loss of hair, but produced an entirely new growth, which has remained luxuriant and glossy to this day. I can recommend this preparation to all in need of a genuine hair-restorer. It is all that it is claimed to be."—Antonio Alarum, Bastrop, Tex.

THE MCCONNELL CASE.

Proceedings on Habeas Corpus to be Had To-morrow—His Creditors at Spokane Denounce his Arrest.

Several items concerning the arrest of William McConnell in New York upon a requisition of the Governor of California, have been published in the newspapers. The Silver State of last Saturday has this to say concerning the matter.

"William McConnell was taken from No. 4 yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Cheney on application of George Russell. At the time McConnell was in charge of Detective Whitaker and was being taken to San Francisco, having been arrested at New York on the charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses."

"McConnell is a merchant of Spokane, Washington, who recently failed. Among his creditors was the carpet house of W. J. Sloan & Co., San Francisco, and the firm had him arrested at New York just as he was about to sail for Europe."

Judge Cheney heard proceedings under the writ of habeas corpus in the District Court this morning. The parties asked for time and the case was continued until next Thursday at the judge's chambers at Reno. In the meantime McConnell was admitted to bail in the sum of $3,000, which was furnished by George Russell and Geo. S. Nixon. The case promises to be a notable one."

George Russell upon whose petition the writ of habeas corpus was issued, and William McConnell and M. S. Bonfield, one of his attorneys, arrived from Winnemucca Saturday night. Mr. Griffiths, an eminent lawyer from Spokane, Washington, an attorney for Mr. McConnell arrived also Saturday night. A JOURNAL reporter failed to get any information from these attorneys as to the contentions in habeas corpus proceedings upon the grounds, as they say, that they never try a case in the public prints but only in the judicial tribunals.

The following from Spokane shows the feeling existing in that city toward McConnell:

SPokane, Wash., December 24.

State Journal, Reno, Nevada:—Information reached here to-day that Wm. McConnell of this city, who was arrested in New York City several weeks ago at the instigation of Sloane & Co. of San Francisco on a charge of swindling, and who was being taken back to California for trial, had been stopped at Reno, Nevada, on a writ of habeas corpus. A meeting of McConnell's creditors and other prominent business men was held this afternoon and resolutions were passed denouncing his arrest as malicious, and every member of the meeting voted to aid financially in securing his release from arrest. McConnell's friends have made every effort to save him, and at Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City and Salt Lake he was stopped on writ of habeas corpus, but, owing to not being represented by counsel, he was remanded to the custody of a Sheriff from California.

District Attorney Summerfield and wife of Carson spent Christmas with Reno friends, returning home yesterday morning.

If you want a good fitting pair of boots or shoes—no scab work from strangers—go to H. F. Pavola, who is reliable and no stranger.

If afflicted with scalp disease, hair falling out, and premature baldness, do not use grease or alcoholic preparation, but apply Hall's Hair Renewer.

State Senator Stearns of Eureka, who has been teaching school at Ely for some time past, spent yesterday in Reno and left for San Francisco last night.

Mr. and Mrs. James Douy of Carlin came in Sunday and spent Christmas with George Douglas on the Meadows. Mrs. Douy is a daughter of Mr. Douglas.

So far as known to the churches and school relief committees there was not a person in Reno who suffered for the necessities of life on Christmas Day. Everybody may not have had a feast, but all had plenty to eat.

The turkey shooting at Huffaker's Christmas Day was largely attended. The turkeys were large and fat. The first shot fired was by Billy Ferguson and he got a gobbler. The first four only brought the owner $2.25, but he made up for it subsequently, one turkey bringing $6.75. Dan Huffaker got first money in the pigeon shooting.

The JOURNAL was presented with a handsome bouquet of rose geraniums and pansies yesterday from the garden of Mrs. Henry Whistler at Glendale. The flowers were grown in the open air and were plucked on Christmas Day. This shows that the climate of Nevada, in this latitude at least, deserves the encomiums pronounced upon it by our Eastern visitors.

Sheriff Hadley arrived on the afternoon train yesterday from Humboldt with three prisoners, which he is taking to Carson. One is Indian Charley, sentenced to life for murdering two members of his tribe, and the others are Carter and Griffin, sentenced to two and one-half years each for burglary. The prisoners were the guests of Sheriff Caughlin last night and they will be taken to Carson this morning.

RENO BUSINESS HOUSES.

Some of the Firms in Reno Who Are Holding Their Own With the Hard Times.

H. F. PAVOLA.

The boot and shoe store of H. F. Pavola upon Commercial Row is rapidly building up a well deserved reputation for the excellent article of foot gear carried in stock and sold at bedrock prices. Mr. Pavola is a believer in the two business maxims, a good article and a low price, and the success which has attended him in the business in which he is engaged amply evidences the correctness of the principle. His store contains a splendid stock; in addition to which he conducts a repairing shop and also manufactures boots and shoes to order, which are guaranteed.

THE RENO MILL AND LUMBER COMPANY.

There is hardly a board, shingle, window or fence post bought in Reno that does not come from this firm. Everything in rough or dressed lumber is made at their planing mill or box factory here. At their lumber yard are more than three million feet of every kind of lumber conceivable. The Reno planing mill and box factory keeps a large force of men constantly employed to meet the demand. At the company's office, in the First National Bank building, has recently been added a large stock of wall paper, builders' supplies, paints, oils, glass, etc., and anyone building a home or repainting or papering an old one, will do well to call and examine the display.

J. M. McCORMACK.

One can find at the marble and granite works of J. M. McCormack as excellent an assortment of tombstones, monuments etc., as are to be found anywhere. Mr. McCormack is more of an artist than an artisan in his profession, as the samples of his workmanship evince. He has built up a large trade in his line, not only at home, but in all the neighboring towns of the State, and the beautiful monuments to be seen in the various cemeteries of the State are mainly of his handiwork.

E. C. SESSIONS & CO.

The furniture store of E. C. Sessions & Co., in the Thompson building, Virginia street, is a credit to Reno. Until a few years ago it had been impossible to conduct a first-class furniture store in the Riverside town, the people holding fast the idea that they could neither get a good article of furniture nor at a reasonable price. Mr. Sessions has had to combat the prejudice and it is only lately that the people have awakened to the fact that one can furnish his home from a Reno store as elegantly as he could do so buying from Sacramento. The furniture stock of Sessions & Co. fills two large stores, and is as elegant a line as one would wish to see.

RUDE & MIDDOUR.

The meat market of Rude & Middour on West Commercial Row, is one of the favorite shops of Reno, on account of the excellent quality of the steaks and chops sold by them.

ALFRED NELSON.

It was not many years ago that Alfred Nelson began business with a few dollars capital in the store in rear of the Merchants' Exchange building. Today he has as handsome a store as may be found in Reno. He carries a fine stock of cigars, tobacco, jewelry, etc. Connected with his store is the chief intelligence office of the town.

I. N. BAKELESS.

Mr. Bakeless is one of the most enterprising of the younger business men of Reno, and in spite of several misfortunes which would have discouraged a less persevering person, he is still on deck and as cheerful as ever. Mr. Bakeless keeps a select stock of the best groceries, provisions, fruit, etc., and sells reasonably.

W. S. BAILEY.

W. S. Bailey is generally known throughout Western Nevada as one of the chief butchers and cattle men of the State. He conducts one of the largest meat markets in Virginia City and also one in Reno, besides shipping considerable meat in his refrigerator cars to other places.

RENO LIVERY FEED AND SALE STABLE.

This fine stable is situated upon Center street, near the depot, and is well equipped with everything in the livery line. Handsome horses and fine carriages of every description may be had for reasonable hire, and no one who gets a livery team at the stable once fails to do likewise whenever occasion calls for afterwards.

THE EUREKA LIVERY STABLE.

One of the well-known landmarks of Reno is the Eureka stable, R. W. Parry proprietor, situated on the corner of Fourth and Sierra streets. In connection with a general livery business Mr. Parry runs a hay and feed yard, where stop nearly all the teams from the northern valleys. Cattle and horses are also loaded on board the cars and much live stock in transit is taken off at this point and fed by Mr. Parry.

TRUCKEE LIVERY STABLES.

One of the pioneers of Reno is Tom Hymers, a gentleman whose genial visage is one of the landmarks of Washoe county. Mr. Hymers is the proprietor of the Truckee Livery Stable, situated upon Sierra street, between Second and Third. Last spring a fire destroyed his former stable and before the embers had ceased smoking, with his accustomed energy he projected the splendid brick structure wherein his stable is now located. He has an unexcelled lot of fine livery horses and carriages, which are hired at prices in accordance with the times. In connection therewith he has a feed stable where transient stock is cared for.

A PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT.

How the Verdi Public School Celebrated Christmas.

The Verdi public schools, Prof. E. E. Caine principal, Miss Adaline L. Morton assistant, gave a pleasant entertainment Monday evening at the Verdi hall. A stage had been erected at one end of the room with a bright drop curtain, upon each side of which was a Christmas tree loaded with presents for young and old.

The curtain rose upon the first part of a minstrel sitting, with the school children as performers dressed in gay colors and their bright faces making a picture that no real minstrel company could hope to equal. Master Will Foulks acted as interlocutor and sustained his part with all the serious dignity of a thoroughbred. His colored assistants, Master Ed. Lonkey, right ebor man, and Master Sam Mitchell, left ebor, were at all times equal to the occasion.

Each number of the program was excellent and showed careful training on the part of the teachers. The song, "We'd Better Bide Awe," by Miss Lily Nicholas, a duet, "Under the Old Umbrella," by Miss Etta Pixley and Master Tom Powning, and another duet, "Kiss and Let's Make Up," by Miss Pixley and her sister Bertha, were well rendered. As the instrumental portion of the setting there were four violins, an organ and three horns, all played by the pupils; Master Lester Merrill acting as musical director.

Following the opening was a broom drill by eight young ladies, a butterfly drill by eight little girls dressed in tissue paper and representing butterflies; a military drill by eight of the older boys in handsome white and red costumes, and a dialogue concerning the revolution of the social relations between husband and wife when women vote, which came not far from being the gem of the evening. Harry Stackpole as the hen-pecked husband was excellent, while Bertha Pixley and Albert Boire, as the source of his troubles and his confiding friend respectively, sustained their roles well.

After the unloading of the Christmas tree dancing was indulged in till an early hour.

Christmas at the Churches.

Christmas was celebrated in the usual manner by the churches, each having its tree loaded with presents to bring happiness in every child's heart.

The Salvation Army distributed bags of candy to a large number of little ones.

Trinity Church, instead of purchasing presents for the Sunday school pupils as heretofore, devoted the offering to making gifts to the children of the needy who would otherwise have been deprived of the joys attending the day.

At the Methodist Church an immense congregation was in attendance, candy, nuts and cake being distributed among all those present.

At the Congregational Church two Christmas trees were loaded with presents, while from a great Dutch windmill, with every turn of its sails, bags of sweets dropped out, which were distributed among those present by little girls.

At the Catholic Church there was music, recitations and singing and a Santa Clause, who distributed the gifts from the trees among the children.

There were few children indeed in Reno Monday who did not get something to make them happy.

Attempted Suicide.

Marchie Kelley, a young man of Carson, tried to commit suicide in that city early Monday morning by shooting himself in the breast. The ball glanced from the rib and inflicted a painful flesh wound. The cause of the attempt at self-destruction was a disgraceful attachment for a woman of the town living in a well-known resort in that city. She had taken up with another lover, and so Kelley concluded to end his earthly trials by the bullet route. He was wise enough, however, not to place the gun to his head in any futile attempt to blow out any brains.

Arrested for Vagrancy.

Four men, Jack Rutledge, Bert Gafford, Joseph Winters and Henry Jenkins (colored), were arrested for vagrancy for living off the earnings of fallen women and had an examination before Justice Lunn who held them in $50 bail, in default of which they were committed to the county jail.

CARSON, Nev., December 26, 1893.—Mrs. R. M. Death of an Estimable Lady.

Mrs. D. B. Lyman died at the family residence, Virginia City, last Sunday morning of pneumonia. The Enterprise says in the death of Mrs. Lyman the community loses one of its most charitable members, who was always assisting the poor in a quiet way. She was devoted to her husband and children who are inconsolable over their irreparable loss. As an evidence of the esteem in which she was held all the men in the mines of which Mr. Lyman is superintendent unanimously decided to quit work until the funeral ceremonies were over.

Deceased was a native of Missouri, aged 39 years, and she leaves two children, both sons. The body was taken west by express last evening to Oakland, California, and the interment will be in Mountain View cemetery in that city.

District Court Proceedings.

In the District Court yesterday the case of the State vs. O. W. Pearl was set for trial January 23, the case of the State vs. McNaughton was set for January 8, the case of the State vs. Dan O'Keefe set for January 9 and the several cases of J. J. Linn vs. Washoe county set for January 25, to follow each other until disposed of. In the case of the State vs. A. Nadon a demurrer was filed and argued which Judge Cheney took under advisement. In the cigarette paper case of the State vs. Marcus Fredrick, the demurrer will be argued to-day at 10 o'clock.

A Serious Accident.

Last Friday evening Miss Mary Crocker of Glendale was on her way home from Reno driving a horse and park cart. When in front of George Alt's ranch the horse stumbled and fell and threw Miss Crocker over the dash-board, breaking the large bone of the right arm near the wrist and dislocating the small bone at the wrist joint. Dr. Percy Phillips was called to attend her and reduce the fracture. The lady is able to get about the house, but complains of much pain in the injured arm.

Taken to Oakland.

The body of the late Mrs. D. B. Lyman of Virginia City was brought down last evening on the V. & T. and taken to Oakland, where it will be interred in Mountain View Cemetery. Accompanying the remains were the following named friends: Mrs. Geo. King of Oakland, a niece of Mr. Lyman, Mr. and Mrs. Bliss and J. A. Yerington of Carson, Mrs. Haughs and Mr. P. Kernan of Virginia City, Senator Evan Williams, Mr. Robert Logan and Mr. J. P. Woodbury of Empire.

A Bicycle Journey.

Prof. J. E. Church of the State University yesterday morning at 8 o'clock left Reno on his bicycle for Virginia City, where he arrived at 12:45 P. M. After remaining on the Comstock about an hour and a half he departed for Carson City. This last trip was coasting nearly all the way and was made in good time. Prof. Church, when he reached Carson, however, concluded that he had had enough exercise for one day and so came back last evening on the train.
